QUESTION 1

What is the main purpose of the Job Plan Sequence tab in the Preventive Maintenance (PM) application?

- A. To assign a sequential list of PM job plans which allows for scheduling different levels of maintenance work
- B. To schedule a sequence of PM records during specified times of the year including active PM days, weeks, or months
- C. To schedule criteria for sequencing work order generation from PM records in which PMs can be scheduled time-based or meter-based
- D. To generate a group sequence of PM work orders for an asset or location hierarchy which allows for organizing job plans for inspections and large projects

Correct Answer: A

QUESTION 2

A job plan is used throughout the organization and has six tasks except for one site (site A) that has an additional task. What is the best approach to accomplish this requirement?

- A. Create a job plan with the six tasks that apply to both sites. Create a nested job plan that references the unique task, designate it for site A and associate it with the first task.
- B. For the job plan or tasks, do not define an organization or site. When the work order for a site other than site A is created, delete the task which does not apply from the work order.
- C. For the job plan or the six tasks that apply to both sites, do not define an organization or site. For the additional task that is specific for site A, designate the site ID for that task as site A.
- D. Two job plans are needed: one that is designated as site A at the job plan level and has the seven appropriate job tasks for that site, and one without a defined site for the six job tasks appropriate for the remaining sites.

Correct Answer: C
