QUESTION 1

When drawing blood from a patient, you can make the veins in their arm become more prominent by asking them to _____.

- A. Point their arm towards the floor
- B. Breathe rapidly
- C. Hold their breath
- D. Clench their fist

Correct Answer: D

When a patient clenches their fist the amount of blood flowing into the hand is temporarily decreased by the contraction and so blood builds up further up the arm, making veins more prominent and so easier to see.

QUESTION 2

Which of these is not part of the measurement of vital signs?

- A. Temperature
- B. Respiration
- C. Pulse
- D. Sweating

Correct Answer: D

The monitoring of vital signs comprises monitoring temperature, respiration and pulse.

However, at the same time as monitoring the vital signs any other abnormal signs should be noted, for example excessive sweating, trembling or incoherence, and reported if necessary.

QUESTION 3

What does "respondeat superior" mean in law?

- A. An employer can be held responsible for employee actions
- B. Employers are not responsible for employee actions
- C. Only employers are responsible for employee actions
- D. Employees are the only ones responsible for their actions

Correct Answer: A

Respondeat superior translates as "let the master answer" and means that an employer can be held responsible for an employee's actions, provided those actions come under the heading of their employment, for example a clinic may be held accountable for a medical practitioner's negligence. However, this does not mean that employees will necessarily escape sanction for malpractice or negligence: both employer and employee can be sanctioned.

QUESTION 4

If a man comes into the clinic and the doctor observes that he has gynecomastia, it would point to _____.

- A. Swollen glands in the neck
- B. Overdevelopment of breast tissue
- C. A blood clot in the leg
- D. Kidney stones

Correct Answer: B

---

QUESTION 5

Occult blood is tested for using _____ procedure.

- A. Urine sample
- B. Stool sample
- C. Saliva sample
- D. Nasal swab

Correct Answer: B

Occult literally means "hidden": the occult blood test looks for hidden blood in the stool which may be a sign of stomach problems. In order to make this test accurate it's very important that patients are clearly instructed on the correct way to collect the sample.
