QUESTION 1

Your customer indicates that when she promotes her employees, typically she increases their pay simultaneously.

You want to manage this with one table. Which two fields must you place on that table to accommodate this request? (Choose two.)

- A. EFFDT
- B. EFFSEQ
- C. EFF_STATUS
- D. EFFECTIVE_DT
- E. EFFECTIVE_SEQ

Correct Answer: AB

QUESTION 2

For the Employee Expenses application, a PeopleCode program could be placed either on the EMPLOYEE record or on the EMP_EXPENSE component. You decide to place it on the component.

Which is a valid reason for choosing to place the program on the component instead of the record?

- A. The program updates multiple database tables.
- B. The program validates data across multiple records.
- C. Component PeopleCode executes before record PeopleCode, so it is more efficient.
- D. The record definition is used on several components, but this program should run only on this component.
- E. The program initializes fields on the search page, and the search record is associated with the component.
- F. The component contains several record definitions and you do not want to duplicate the code in each record.
- G. Component PeopleCode is more reusable because component PeopleCode is available for execution on other components.

Correct Answer: D

QUESTION 10

The Order table includes (among other fields) a customer ID and an amount for each item that was ordered. An existing query returns the same number of rows as are in the table. For example, if John ordered 10 items, you would see 10 rows with his ID in the customer ID column.

You want to determine how much each customer has ordered, so you need a query that displays just one row for each customer ID and amount field. The value of the amount field in John row would be the sum of the values from the 10 rows.field. The value of the amount field in John? row would be the sum of the values from the 10 rows.

How would you calculate how much each customer has ordered?

- A. Apply the aggregate function Sum to the amount field.
- B. Add a prompt query to further refine the query when it is run.
- C. Define expressions to calculate how much each customer has ordered.
- D. Define a HAVING criterion to display how much each customer has ordered.

Correct Answer: A
